Big Grain Shipments.

The through freight business on the C. and O. Railroad is now reaching a large proportion than it has held for some months past, most of the freight being for export and going direct to Newport News for shipment by steamers. Large amounts of this is wheat, and some of the freight trains are running three and four sections of twenty-five and thirty cars each. Most of these trains pass Eastward in the night, and during the coming few weeks there will be an immense amount of business done in this line.

Death of Mrs. Crowell.

Mrs. Julia Ann Crowell, wife of Calvin Crowell, died at her home in the Fifth Ward at 5 o'clock this morning of grip. Mrs. Crowell was a very highly esteemed Christian lady, and while she has been sick for several days, not even her own children considered that she was in a dangerous condition. She became worse late last evening, and last night her growing weakness was perceptible to those about her deathbed. It was just 5 o'clock when the end came. She was about 71 years of age and leaves four children, three sons and one daughter, who have the sympathy of the entire neighborhood in their sad bereavement.

The funeral will occur Monday morning at 9:30 o'clock a. m., the services being conducted by Rev. D. P. Holt at the residence, No. 623 East Second street, the interment being in Maysville Cemetery.

"The Stranger" is a refined comedy and no lady need be ashamed to attend.

KNOCKS 'EM CLEAN OUT.

The Boyle County Prohibitionists Routed, Horse, Foot and Dragon.

W. K. Vowells of Lexington, the Jung Brewery Agent who was indicted twenty times at the last term of the Boyle Circuit Court for violating the local option laws, beat the prosecution in every one of the cases.

The cases have been watched with interest in local option communities generally, as it concerned the right of dealers to send intoxicants by express C. O. D. The Superior Court recently decided, in a case somewhat similar to this one, that the sale was made in the town where the consignee was located, and did not therefore come within the limits of the Prohibition laws of the town where the goods were received.

Judge Sauley, while intimating his disapproval of this decision, dismissed the case in accordance with the opinion. But the question remains still unsettled, as the Commonwealth's Attorney will carry it to the Supreme Court, and feels confident that another presentation of the question will result differently.

THE BUFFALO WAY.

The Catholic Organ of That City Calls For a Vigorous Boycott.

The Catholic Record of London, Ontario, prints with hearty commendation the following from The Buffalo Union and Times, taking care to conceal the fact that the proper name of the Buffalo paper is "The Catholic Union and Times"—the idea of the Canadian sheet being to convey the belief that the utterances are those of a secular and not of a church organ.

But here the article. It needs no comment. It speaks for itself.

SEVERAL ARE NOTED. Buffalo Union and Times—We hope there is no foundation for the report recently published in The Enquirer regarding the mooted indictment of the A. P. A. conspirators. There is no doubt as to the criminality of the conspiracy. As shown by the oaths and vows of its members, it is subversive of the Constitution of the United States and contrary to the laws of the Commonwealth. Nevertheless, we are opposed to any measures that could be tortured into a seeming persecution which takes the biscuit. No affidavits are affixed and therefore we cannot vouch for its truthfulness: The other night the Monitor Band was practicing "After the Ball" in their hall on the West Side of the square. When the band struck up the tune there was a number of persons standing on the platform at the transfer house. They quickly stepped inside and closed the door for safety. Two traveling men who were standing in front of the hotel beat a retreat. And after a few moments, when the band burst out into the chorus, even the inanimate could stand it no longer and the four street cars that were standing near the transfer house slowly moved away, leaving the square deserted except by the wind, and it moaned as it blew through the tower.

Let this boycott be as complete against the conspirators as they have sworn to make it against their Catholic fellow-citizens. Shut the doors of the merchant, the Apaiist as if it had a plague. Neither subscribe for nor advertise in a paper that in any way upholds the Apaiist cause. Under no circumstances employ an Apaiist lawyer or doctor. There are druggists we know who are among the conspirators. Never cross their threshold. And so on to butcher, baker, tailor, shoemaker, and every branch of trade—let there be a general boycott of all along the line. This is fighting the Devil with fire and will be far more effective in smoking out the nest of knavery and vipers than their martyr-making indictments.

Merchants, Attention!

Please read THE LEADER'S proposition, under head of "Where to Deal," second column on fourth page, and then have your name placed "on the list."

Sudden Death.

Bayless Turner died very suddenly at his home on Forest avenue in the Sixth Ward of apoplexy in his 68th year. Mr. Turner was apparently well and hearty at 8 o'clock last night and the death came very sudden.

He was married twice, his first wife dying several years ago. His last wife survives him. Three children by his first wife, who now live in Illinois, also survive him. He had no children by his last wife. Mr. Turner was a highly respected gentleman and the news of his death will indeed be a surprise.

Arrangements for the funeral will not be made until the children are heard from.

FOUR OF A KIND.

Two With Four Legs, and Two With Two Legs, but All Alike in Name.

Officer Purnell made an important arrest about 3 o'clock this morning in getting Dan Weaver and Joe Bode in jail.

The officer was walking along on Short street about that hour and noticed two men coming across the river in a skiff. He secluded himself and when they landed he groped his way through the darkness to them and found the two named above.

They had two mighty fine shots in the boat with them and when Officer Purnell demanded an explanation they could not give a plausible one and the officer arrested them. They refused to go without a warrant and Judge Wadsworth was awakened at 2 o'clock to issue warrants for the arrest of the two.

Officer Purnell returned afterwards and got Weaver first.

It is not known who the shots be longed to, but it was some one living near the river bank in Aberdeen.

They will be given a hearing at the Police Court this afternoon.

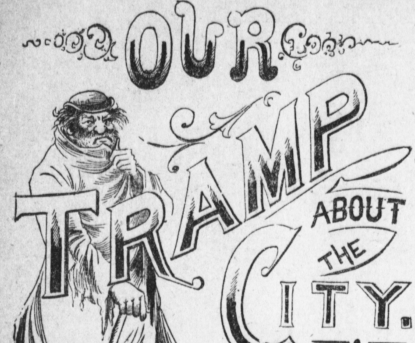

If you have friends visiting you, or if you are away on a visit, please drop in a note to that effect.

Mrs. William Evans is at home again after two weeks visit in Cincinnati.

Couldn't Stand It.

Here is an item taken from a correspondent which takes the biscuit. No affidavits are affixed and therefore we cannot vouch for its truthfulness: The other night the Monitor Band was practicing "After the Ball" in their hall on the West Side of the square. When the band struck up the tune there was a number of persons standing on the platform at the transfer house. They quickly stepped inside and closed the door for safety. Two traveling men who were standing in front of the hotel beat a retreat. And after a few moments, when the band burst out into the chorus, even the inanimate could stand it no longer and the four street cars that were standing near the transfer house slowly moved away, leaving the square deserted except by the wind, and it moaned as it blew through the tower.

IT'S SO IF IT'S IN THE LEDGER.

Well, Now! According to a recent dispatch from Henderson, Ky., Mrs. Tabitha Alsop, who is 64 years old, is the happy mother of a fine girl baby, born at Strouds, McLean county, last Saturday night. A remarkable feature of the case is the fact that this is the first child born of a wedlock of nearly forty years duration.

"Just Landed" will be with us soon. It will be an interesting meeting at the Courthouse this afternoon and all should attend.

The street cars were delayed quite awhile yesterday by a broken wire near Limestone Bridge.

Miss MAGGIE DUKE WATSON very pleasantly entertained last night in honor of a number of her friends.

Mrs. M. J. MCCARTHY was reported considerably worse last night, and grave fears are entertained for her.

DON'T forget to be at the Courthouse this afternoon and attend the meeting of those in favor of enforcing the law in regard to toll roads.

HON. WALTER MATTHEWS has introduced in the Legislature a bill to prevent the spread of "black knot" in plum, cherry and other trees.

The alarm last evening was caused by a slight blaze in the house occupied by Mrs. EMILIE FEY, Third street above Limestone. Damage small.

The Tom Sawyer Club was entertained last Monday by James Hill and last night by Nat Cook. A very fine time was had by the boys at both places.

The Enquirer says the new State President of the A. P. A. for Ohio is a Democrat, and yet there are people so poorly informed as to say that the A. P. A. is a "secret political organization."

The ladies of the Methodist Episcopal Church will give a supper Tuesday and Wednesday nights, January 23d and 24th, in the Cooper Building on Second street. Ten cents will be charged at the door. Complete supper, oysters included, for 25 cents. Fried oysters, ice cream and cake extra. All are cordially invited to attend. Full value received for all that you spend with us.

"A Stranger." Strange, that strange thing should happen, but it's not so very strange that Arthur Deming should appear at the Opera house to night in the side-splitting farce "A Stranger." Still it would have been strange if that stranger had taken "A Stranger" to a strange city in place of our own. Deming's name is too familiar to theater goers to be considered strange in any strange place.

"I AM CRAZY!"

Declared Frank Means in the Probate Court at Cincinnati.

The following item appeared in yesterday's Enquirer. Mr. Means formerly resided in this city. He left Maysville some time ago in apparent good health and spirits. The Enquirer says: An unusual scene was witnessed in the Probate Court yesterday afternoon. It was the declaration of a man that he was crazy and a request by him that he be sent to the asylum.

The man was Frank Means, living at 81 Hopkins street. He entered the Probate Court, and according John Magle, the Lunacy Deputy, said:

"I want to be sent to the asylum. I am as crazy as a bedbug."

"What made you crazy?" he was asked.

"I don't know. But I am, and have been getting worse for several weeks. My mind is leaving me. I scratch myself to pieces, and can't keep from doing it. No, I don't drink, and don't know what causes my mind to feel so funny. I want to go to the asylum."

He was told he would have to get his physician or some one to file an affidavit against him.

He went away to get some one to do that. As he left he said:

"I know I am crazy, for I cannot resist striking in the face when going along the street, and I had a knife I would stab myself."

He is a bricklayer by trade.

He is the nice things that the Jewellers on county keep, Ballenger corner has the finest. His stock is not at all with any shabby or trashy stuff, you get it of him you are getting it. Give him a call.

JOE J. McNAMARA was jailed at City Mo., on the charge of being the director of a local confederacy. The charge can be sustained if the Bishop rights; for slander is a disreputable weapon, whether by a Bishop or a blackguard. A case is tried there no telling outcome will be. There was a sample of that sort in Maysville.

TARIFF MAKING

The Committee to Report Income Tax Bill to the House.

A Motion Will Be Made to Incorporate It In the Wilson Bill.

Its Final Fate in the House Doubtful, But Its Opponents Predict That It Will Be Abandoned.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 30.—Representative Bryan, a member of the ways and means committee, who, with Representative McMillin, has been most earnest in advocacy of the income tax, said Friday afternoon that it was the intention of the committee to report the bill laying an income tax to the house Saturday. A meeting of the entire committee was held on Friday morning, but when the republican members came to the committee room they were calmly notified by chairman Wilson that the committee had not yet definitely decided on every detail of the bill for raising revenue by internal taxation, and the meeting therefore would be postponed.

There is no disposition to hurry the introduction of an income tax discussion into the tariff debate, but in view of the fact that the bill is scheduled to present bids far to meet with radical amendments before the Wilson bill is finally adopted, and as a deficiency bill is created by the Wilson bill largely dependent upon the final adjustment of the sugar schedule, there is a feeling among the members of the ways and means committee that it will be wisdom to introduce early as possible whatever measures the committee has devised for the purpose of raising revenue to meet the deficit.

There is a probability, amounting almost to a certainty, that in spite of every effort on the part of the managers of the house to prevent a vote, the bill will be made by some prominent democrat to incorporate the income tax bill into the Wilson bill. This motion will receive the support of nearly every one of the ninety republicans in the house, and consequently will stand some chance of success. It is difficult to estimate as to the final fate of the income tax bill in the house, though the support given the committee by the majority of democrats on every test question that has developed during the debate on the amendments this week, would seem to indicate that Chairman Wilson will require the master of the situation until the final vote is taken. Certainly any plan to defeat the income tax in the house by incorporating it in the Wilson bill will fail, because the Wilson bill will pass the house no matter how seriously loaded down with objectionable features.

The opponents of the income tax know that it will be promptly abandoned when it reaches the senate finance committee, either as an independent measure or when it is tacked to the Wilson bill, and there is therefore no disposition to make wider, by too vague opposition to the income tax, the breach of the republican ranks, the ranks of the democratic party in the house.

A democratic senator, who discussed the subject Friday afternoon, and whose long service and high standing in the party make him an authority on matters affecting the policy democrats in the senate, said:

"The income tax is not worthy of serious discussion, whether it passes the house or not. As for the Wilson bill, its career will end when the house adopts it, one week from next Monday. The bill that we will pass in the senate will be so different that Chairman Wilson will never recognize it. There was a 'McKinley' bill in 1890, but our tariff bill will have no man's name attached to it. It will simply be a tariff of '94.' No one will be referring to it as the 'Wilson bill.'"

Javien, Robert Hand.

VALPARAISO, Ind., Jan. 30.—The residents in the neighborhood of Pleasant, a summer resort near this city, have been systematically robbed frequently during the past two months. Friday evening a man was observed carrying a bag of money about the streets, were occupying one of the clubhouses on the lake, putting in the days reading novels and playing cards and night making rackets in the clubhouses in the neighborhood. Officers went out Friday night and arrested the crowd of young bandits.

Editor Childs News Item Improved.

PHILADELPHIA, Pa., Jan. 30.—The edition of Geo. W. Childs, who was used with an alarming attack of vertigo last week, was reported as being in the latter office Thursday afternoon, was reported as favorable Friday morning. His physicians said he had good night and was resting comfortably, but he is still considered a very man.

Coal Mine Shut Down.

RAZIL, Ind., Jan. 30.—The Jackson and Mining Co. were forced to close in its Drake mine Friday, on account of the dullness in the coal trade. The mine is a very productive one, its closing down throws several hundred employees out of work. It is noted that several others will be a soon.

Widow Sees a Memento Society.

BREWSTER, Ind., Jan. 30.—Mrs. M. Langford, widow of the late Editor J. H. Langford, who passed a sad winter, has used the memento of the Mutual Benefit society, of m. for $100.00. It is reported that she had put on policies on account of irregularities.

Daniel Moore's Cousin Dead.

PARAISO, Ind., Jan. 30.—Mrs. Adamson, a cousin of Daniel Moore, of this county, dropped dead morning, aged 95 years. She was in bed, and her death was a surprise to her family. She was seventy years old and had been in bed for some time.

THE WORST IS OVER.

Business Is Picking Up and Better Times Are Coming, Say the Experts.

New York, Jan. 30.—Under the head of "Business Revivals in Sight," the Times Friday presented a summary of the trades and business activity, and stated that there has been a visible improvement in the business situation since the opening of the new year. It says:

"Better times are being heralded in many branches of trade, their coming has already been noted. There has been, of course, no great and general revival of business activity, but it would be foolish and futile to pretend that the trade and industries of the country have fully recovered from the depression of the past few months. The steady accumulation of idle money in the New York banks would disprove any sweeping assertions of that nature. But the evidence is ample that the worst has passed, that we have turned the corner and are now on the mend. The rapidity of the recovery is still very doubtful, but the fact that there are no large stocks of goods on hand. The jobbers' shelves and manufacturers' floors are cleared of surplus stock, and there have lately started up indicate that orders have begun to come in, and to fill orders, the mills make the goods."

MORE GOLD COIN.

$15,000,000 to be Turned out as Fast as Philadelphia, Jan. 26.—A conference in this city between Min Diercks, Preston and Supt. Royster, of the Philadelphia mint, resulted in an agreement under which 15,000,000, and as much more as possible, will be coined in gold at the mint here in eagles and dollars, about $100,000,000. There is at present in the Philadelphia mint bullion to the value of $80,000,000, and the assay office in New York has gold and silver coin valued at $10,000,000, which will be sent to Philadelphia for coining.

All the gold bullion will be made into coins as fast as possible. The mint has five pieces available, which can turn out nearly $4,000,000 a day in double eagles, but the rolling and cutting of the coins will not supply the demand, so that the mint will have to coin their full limit. The promised gold coinage will exceed any since 1873, when $11,000,000 was coined in one month. The coinage will be done without increase in the regular working hours.

VOLCANIC ERUPTION.

Mt. Jefferson, in Oregon, breaks forth in fire and smoke.

PORTLAND, Ore., Jan. 30.—From Salem comes the news of renewed activity on the part of Mt. Jefferson. Thursday morning, half an hour after midnight, the mountain began to erupt, and a dull red glow, a few minutes later a black banner of smoke seen extending from the dark forest to the sky. It was inky, immense, unmistakable. Just before the sun burst over the horizon and for about an hour after, the smoke was plainly seen. A volume of steam arose a mile high in white sheets. Mt. Jefferson was soon obscured by the high wind arose from the southwest that was almost a tornado, undoubtedly influenced by the great burning mountain. The smoke was an inextinguishable volcanic rock that rises with sheer walls nearly 100 feet high that have never been sealed, and has a crater fissure on the southwest side.

An Ex-Editor's Fervent Reproof.

MUNCE, Ind., Jan. 30.—During the recent small-pox epidemic, James Grassman, editor of the Muncie News, was supposed patient, but he did not have the disease, nor did he contract it. He, however, did contract a skin disease which was plainly seen. A volume of steam arose a mile high in white sheets. Mt. Jefferson was soon obscured by the high wind arose from the southwest that was almost a tornado, undoubtedly influenced by the great burning mountain. The smoke was an inextinguishable volcanic rock that rises with sheer walls nearly 100 feet high that have never been sealed, and has a crater fissure on the southwest side.

Thurston En Route to Washington.

CHICAGO, Jan. 30.—Important dispatches are being sent to Washington by Minister Thurston, who passed through Chicago Friday en route from Honolulu to Washington. He came alone on the steamer, and left almost immediately on the Baltimore and Ohio. He said that he was taking important dispatches, but he was not able to add a word to his maha interview.

Indiana Not That Bad Off.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 30.—The statement that extreme suffering exists among the Indians of the Five Ridge agency is contradicted at the bureau of Indian affairs. The officials ridicule the assertions that Indians are "dying of starvation." They say that the agency is suffering or a remarkably large death toll, it is stated an official report on the subject would be sent to the bureau at once.

Farmer Injured by Dynamite.

BRAZIL, Jan. 30.—Sherman Barlow, a young farmer residing south of the city, was seriously hurt Friday morning by a premature explosion of dynamite. He was digging a well, and the dynamite cartridge under a heavy stone and lighted the fuse. The cartridge suddenly exploded, hurling pieces of stone against Barlow's face and shoulders, inflicting bad wounds.

HAWAIIANS

Waiting for the United States Congress to Act.

If the Annexation Scheme Fails a Republic Will Be Formed.

A Constitution Has Already Been Prepared to Meet This Emergency—There Will Be No Foreign Interference, Says a Government Edict Issued.

SAN FRANCISCO, Jan. 30.—The steamer Monowai arrived from Sydney, Auckland, and Samoa via Honolulu late Friday afternoon. She brings full Hawaiian advice to the Associated Press nearly a week later than previous advices.

HONOLULU, Jan. 12.—Since the sailing of the last steamer political affairs have been very quiet in Honolulu. The government has been pursuing a waiting policy on the ground that no definite action can be taken here until more definite advice regarding the wishes of the officers and had about 40 of his friends in ambush about the house. Eight or ten whites were dangerously wounded. Several negroes were wounded in the pitched battle which occurred, but none were killed.

A FARMER

Harriet Under Pledge After Having Been Bound and Tied—His House Ran.

ZANESVILLE, O., Jan. 19.—Michael Bumgardner, a wealthy and aged farmer residing four miles west of this city, was arrested on Thursday evening, when three men appeared, and, presenting revolvers, bound and gagged him.

The three men, who came from the floor and piled corn fodder over him to prevent discovery. The three men then repaired to the residence of the victim and secured about $300 and gold watch, over looking $500 in bills secured between the folds of a book.

The police authorities of this city have been notified, and Detective Stewart of Cleveland is also working on the case. Several parties have been held up in the neighborhood of the two men, and the citizens are thoroughly aroused.

THE NEW BONDS.

Secretary Carlisle Will Not Bulletin the Bids.

Shown Has Not Been Any Avidity to Purchase the Bonds.

And the Figures Are Very Smart Compared With His Original Estimate—The Idea of the Government to Issue the Bonds by the People Exploited.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 20.—Secretary Carlisle has decided not to make public the offers he receives daily for the bonds. At first it was his intention to issue a bulletin daily as to the bids received, thinking that the publication would stimulate the bidding and set prices up, but his experience during the last two years has been such as to cause him to change his mind. There has not been any avidity shown to take the bonds and the figures offered are so small that he will be obliged to publish them after consultation with the treasury officials, he has concluded not to publish any of the offers, giving as his reason that the publication of the bids would have a tendency to fix the prices.

Mr. Carlisle has an idea that he will be able to dispose of most of the bonds at a rate of premium reaching over 122, and thus make it a two and half per cent. bond.

The developments of the last twenty-four hours, however, have somewhat shaken his faith, and the treasury office say today that if Carlisle receives an offer of 120, he will be obliged to publish it, and that the treasury office idea that these bonds would be taken by the people and it would become a popular loan is also exploded, because, as Mr. Carlisle says, this is an emergency loan and the secretary is obliged to get as much out of it as possible.

The people will not be able to bid large premiums for the bonds, and when they are opened and the secretary finds that a bidder has offered a premium of 120, he will be obliged to accept it, because he can not afford to wait for the money and divide the issue at a rate among hundreds of fifty or hundred-dollar bids.

It looks now as if the bonds will go in large blocks to bankers and bond dealers, and ultimately the majority of the issue will find its way to England. The secretary finds that he has not sold his bill for a day too soon, and this will influence him in accepting the large offers rather than dividing it up pro rata, as he had anticipated.

To Number Postage Stamps.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 20.—The post office department is inclined to regard with favor a suggestion that has been made that the stamps should be numbered precisely in the same manner as treasury notes and bills issued by the government. Some such means of identification of the stamps have been found necessary owing to the numerous robberies of stamps in bulk from post offices in different parts of the country, and a system of numbering seems of late to be considerably on the increase. A large number of representative business men, as well as post office inspectors, have been in different parts of the country, have strongly endorsed the project and urged its immediate consideration.

The Way to Open a Store.

BUFFALO, N. Y., Jan. 30.—An officer has arrived here from Albany with papers of extradition for A. Nathan, a wholesale clothier of this city, who was arrested some time ago for his participation in a gigantic clothing swindle at Lansing, Mich. It is charged that Nathan, with others, opened a store at Lansing and began a great quantity of clothing. It was the old story of taking the goods in from the factory and out of the back and shipping them to the cities. It is claimed that many thousands of dollars worth of clothing was thus stolen.

Rebels Take Chinshaws.

EL PASO, Tex., Jan. 30.—A dispatch to the press from both Wall Street and the city of El Paso, Tex., says that the rebels in the hands of rebels. A first attack was made by a detachment of revolutionists on the west side of the town, which resulted in the federal garrison to point. Immediately the insurgents rushed into the city on the east. The masses of the people being in sympathy with the rebels, there was no resistance from that source. This news was given a Times representative by an intimate friend of the mayor of El Paso.

Canadian Cattle in Bond.

MONTREAL, Jan. 30.—A large department of prominent Canada experts have been asked to advise the Canadian government to use its influence with the United States government so that Canadian cattle may be shipped in bond to Great Britain, and to the United Kingdom. At present, cattle ready for export are held in the city of Montreal, and the early part of the spring have to be kept till April, awaiting the opening of navigation in Canada.

Cons Gets What Was Promised.

OWENSO, N. Y., Jan. 30.—Two years ago James Brennan, a saloonkeeper, showed Cor Hubbard $50,000, which he offered to give to the city of Owensboro, Ky. They were married, but Brennan had given the money to his mother, who refused to surrender it. She brought suit on a jury, on the second day awarded Mrs. Brennan the money she was promised.

As to an Increased Tax on Beer.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 30.—There are some members of the senate finance committee who think that it is an additional tax on beer. Senator Jones of Arkansas is one of these. He is not decided as to whether he shall vote for it, but he has this character to the internal revenue bill, but he is considering the matter.

NOW GET WELL!

PAINE'S CELERY COMPOUND AFTER THE GRIP.

It Makes the Weak Strong—Cures Nervous Debility, Relieves the Wretchedness That Comes From Sickness Indoors.

Let the sun shine! Get strength. Be well! Mrs. John K. Jacobs tells a plain but impressive story.

"I have been taking Paine's Celery Compound," she says, "and feel greatly improved, so much so that I consider myself well. I was left last February, from an attack of the grip, in a low state of health, with a great nervous debility. I can hardly express how wretchedly I felt when I commenced using Paine's Celery Compound. And I began to gradually improve up to the present time, and I now am able to do my work, for which I feel thankful indeed. I think the remedy valuable indeed."

Mrs. Jacobs resides at 1128 Oak Street in Youngstown, O. She has had the same experience as thousands of women, East, West, North and South. There is in the very structure of a household conducted on even the simplest plan enough causes for intense nervous strain, enough work and worry to tax the energy and ingenuity of the most robust woman.

A woman holding up a home on her shoulders, the monotonous routine of fire, brooding, dish-washing, meat preparing, stitching, darning and mending, until the fingers refuse their bidding and the eyelids drop.

The present generation of women is more subject to premature weakness and ill health than its predecessor. The grip first attacks the poor in health. Thon sands of testimonials from men and women who have had the grip or prolonged colds, shows that Paine's Celery Compound quickly makes them well again, because it is food for the nerves, it enriches the blood. It has saved thou sands from chronic illness.

"During the epidemic of la grippe Chamberlain's Cough Remedy took the lead here and was much better liked than any other cough medicine."—H. M. Bangs, Druggist, Chatsworth, Ill. The grip is much the same as a very severe cold, and requires precisely the same treatment. This Remedy is prompt and effective and will prevent any tendency of the disease toward pneumonia. For sale by J. J. Reynolds, Druggist.

Tus Rev. Dr. R. S. Rust, injured recently in an elevator accident at Americus, Ga., has recovered sufficiently to reach his home in Cincinnati.

The persistent cough which usually follows an attack of the grip can be permanently cured by taking Chamberlain's Cough Remedy. W. A. McGuire of McKay, O., says: "La grippe left me with a severe cough. After using several different medicines without relief, I tried Chamberlain's Cough Remedy, which effected a permanent cure. I have also found it to be without an equal for children, when troubled with colds or croup." Twenty-five and fifty cent bottles for sale by John J. Reynolds, Druggist.
